Position: Senior Financial Analyst, Utrecht

The scope of this role will include:

- Support to the project manager in defining the financial structure and organising the process
- Supervision of junior financial analysts on the development and management of financial models and cash flow valuations for renewable energy projects
- Organisation and review of the due diligence work prepared by other advisors
- General market intelligence on sectors of interest to the company, including in-depth review of industry reports
- Business development assistance
- Active participation in a young, international and dynamic team focused on making projects happen and adding real value to our clients

Required education and attributes

The candidate should have a Masters' or Engineering degree or similar from an internationally renowned institution. In addition, the candidate should demonstrate:

- Excellent analytical skills and an ability to learn quickly
- A solid understanding of – and interest in – financial concepts and products
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in Dutch (ideally native language) and English
- Thoroughness and organisation
- An ability to work in a high-pressure environment
- An ability to take initiatives and take responsibility for allocated tasks
- The willingness to travel abroad

The ideal candidate should have 2 to 4 years of experience in project finance in the renewable energy sector. A third language (French, German) would be a great plus.

Package

This position is offered on a full-time and one-year contract basis, in our Utrecht office, starting as soon as practicable. A permanent contract would be offered if the integration in the teams is successful. The candidate can expect opportunities to travel between Green Giraffe offices, to visit clients and to participate in regular team building activities.

Interested candidates should send their applications to career@green-giraffe.eu with “Senior Financial Analyst – Utrecht – [your name]” in the subject field.
